Post Graduate Diploma in PRACTICAL ACCOUNTING & TAXATION (PGDPAT)
from academic year 2014-15

Every business, from a small shop to an MNC, needs accountants. The fast growth of the Indian IT industry and services sector has created a huge need for accountants. Many overseas corporations have outsourced their accounting work to Indian BPOs. People are migrating to other countries for Finance / Accounting jobs. However Commerce / Finance graduates find it difficult to get jobs because there is a gap between what is taught in the colleges and the job skills required by the industry.

Post Graduate Diploma in PRACTICAL ACCOUNTING & TAXATION (PGDPAT)

PGDPAT is designed to offer practical and industry-oriented accounting and taxation skills to fresh graduates to enhance their employability and working professionals to improve their professional skills.

The introduction of Financial Accounting software has changed the role of the Accountant, as most of the routine accounting and taxation-related work is done by the software. The foundation of all accounting software is Practical Accounting and the Accountant needs to be knowledgeable about the practical procedures in accounting, direct and indirect taxes. This will help him / her in getting the best out of the software.

Course Objective

This is an inter-disciplinary course aimed at developing the necessary skills to apply the theoretical knowledge of accounting and finance to practical business situations and using computerized accounting. The course also aims to provide exposure to business environment, entrepreneurial skills and personality development so that the students are groomed into ready made Accounting Executives.
